DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Signs of easing tension appeared today after another emergency meeting of the Cabinet and the return of Syria's top military leaders from talks in Cairo.

Premier Sabri Assali told reporters there was nothing new in the situation and "nothing to be worried about" after the fourth urgent Cabinet session in as many days.

A government spokesman said Brig. Afif Biry, leftist army commander, and Lt. Col. Abdul Hamid Serraj, army intelligence chief, had returned from their hurried visit to Cairo.

No details on their talks with President Nasser and other Egyptian leaders were disclosed here. But before leaving Cairo Biry declared Syria will not use its Soviet-supplied arms to attack anyone, including Israel.

"What we will do is fight back against any attack," Biry told the Egyptian Middle East News Agency. "We will bury the sky and the land to defend our country against Zionists or others."

Biry accused U.S. Secretary of State Dulles of waging a war of nerves against Syria. He predicted that Arab countries now getting arms from the United States will never use them against other Arab states.

He also asserted the military aid Syria has received from the Soviet Union is for defense and said Russia has never asked Syria to sacrifice its independence.

Biry said Syria will not attack Israel because "we have signed an armistice agreement and, unlike Zionists, we honor our signature."

Biry said the Syrian and Egyptian armies are a single force under Egypt's supreme command.

Court Order Helps Quiet Nashville

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—City officials armed Nashville police today with copies of a broad federal court order prohibiting any interference with school integration here.

Besides banning acts intended to keep Negroes out of racially mixed first-grade classes, the order specifically forbids boycotts of the newly integrated grammar schools. Six schools ended their first week of integration today, after two days of surface calm.

U.S. Dist. Judge William E. Miller issued the temporary order yesterday at the request of city and school officials. They asked for it to bolster a police get-tough policy in dealing with racial flareups since 15 Negroes reported for classes along with about 2,000 white first-graders Monday.

The order is similar to one issued in the Northern segregation case in which Kasper was twice convicted in last year's integration disturbances at Clinton, Tenn.

It also names Kasper, the Rev. John McCurrie, itinerant preacher from Albuquerque, N.M., and 10 Nashville area residents as defendants. In addition, it strikes out broadly at "other persons now or hereafter in active concert with them"—that is, others who conspire with the named defendants.

Judge Miller has ordered a hearing Monday on whether to replace the stop-gap restraining with a permanent injunction.

Mayor Ben West said city policemen will read the order to any crowds gathering "in front of or near the schools."

Kasper, released on $500 appeal bond from the city workhouse yesterday, promptly landed in Davidson County Jail, where he is held without bond on a state charge of inciting to riot, based on his anti-integration speeches here.

As sent to the workhouse after failing to pay a $200 fine on disorderly conduct, vagrancy and loitering charges.

McCurrie, who has preached to Kasper-led segregationist rallies, also was arrested last night on the same city charges. He was held in city jail in lieu of $200 bond.

Whereabouts of the other defendants named in the injunction was not known.

Violence reached a high point here early Tuesday when a dynamite blast damaged Hattie Colton school, one of the integrated grammar schools.

Detroit Political Leader Succumbs

DETROIT (AP)—Mayor Albert E. Cobo of Detroit, titular head of the Republican party in Michigan, died last night 11 hours after suffering a heart attack. He was 63.

Cobo, mayor of this industrial city of 2½ million persons since 1950, collapsed at his home yesterday morning a few hours after he had returned from Washington, where he testified in a hearing before the Federal Power Commission.

PSC Says Gas Firm Not Getting Enough Money

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Public Service Commission will hold a hearing Sept. 25 on a consultant's report that Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. is not charging small industrial users enough to cover service costs.

The report of the consulting firm of Arthur Anderson and Co., Chicago, was released by the PSC yesterday.

Several months ago the Anderson firm was employed to study costs of serving industrial customers of Ark La which has headquarters at Shreveport, La.

Industrial users currently pay Ark La 25.4 cents per 1,000 cubic feet of gas.

The report also said the minimum cost of service is slightly above the price fixed by Ark La in controversial contracts it offered the commercial customers last year.

These 3-year contracts boosted the price five cents in exchange for firmer service. Currently, the customers have service which can be interrupted or curtailed during periods of high demand from domestic and other preferred users.

The report showed a price range of from 30.7 to 30.7 cents a cubic foot of gas to industrial consumers. The figure of 30.7 cents is 2 cents higher than the price offered in the 3-year contracts.

Arkansans May Can See Aurora Tonight

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—Weather observers said today that Arkansas would be treated to a display of the Aurora Borealis tonight and possibly several nights to come, if the skies cleared.

One of the brightest displays of the northern lights in more than three decades fingered the skies early today from Texas to South Dakota.

An observer at the U.S. Weather Bureau in San Antonio said it was the first time in his 35 years of working there that the northern lights had been visible over the Alamo City.

At Austin, Bill Hare reported the phenomenon was visible from the weather bureau about 20 degrees off the northern horizon from 1:15 to 3:15 a.m.

Hare described a "pinkish tint" ranging from about 10 degrees off due north to an "egg-shaped reddish tint" at the north.

He said reports of similar sightings were received from weather bureau observers at Corpus Christi, Abilene and San Antonio, Texas; Ardmore, Okla.; Savannah and Augusta, Ga.; Charleston, S. C.; Sioux City and Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Kirksville, Mo.; and Aberdeen, S. Dak., where the display was reported "overhead" at 4 a. m.

Canada's New Minister Takes Oath

OTTAWA (AP)—Dr. Sidney E. Smith was sworn in today as Canada's new foreign secretary. The 60-year-old educator, new to politics, resigned yesterday as president of the University of Toronto.

Beside him as he took the oath of office from Chief Justice Patrick Diefenbaker, who had held the foreign portfolio since the Conservatives' surprise victory over the Liberals last June.

Diefenbaker first offered Smith the post in a phone call from Ottawa last May.

"It came as a complete surprise," Smith told reporters. "I had hoped to carry the torch of education into the field of foreign relations."

"It may well be," he said "that the education of people—not only Canadians but the world—is the solution to some of our world problems."

Smith succeeds Lester B. Pearson, a Liberal, as foreign secretary. The Conservatives ousted the Liberals from power in last June's parliamentary elections. Diefenbaker has been holding the foreign secretary portfolio.

Top Military Men Return to Syria

DAMASCUS (AP)—Syria's two top military chiefs have returned from urgent conferences in Cairo, where they declared Syria will never attack anyone, including Israel.

Brig. Afif Biry, leftist army commander, and Lt. Col. Abdul Hamid Serraj, army intelligence chief, came back to Damascus yesterday.

There were no details here, Cairo newspapers, however, quoted them as saying Syria will not make any aggressive military move with the arms bought from the Soviet Union.

There were other signs of an easing of Middle East tension over Syria.

Premier Sabri Assali told reporters after another emergency meeting of the Cabinet that there was nothing new in the situation and "nothing to be worried about."

Y. S. today's Cabinet session was the fourth in as many days.

The Cairo newspaper Al Akhbar said Serraj firmly denied charges that the Syrian army is controlled by Communists.

Daughter of Mr. Mrs. H. V. Rowe, Dies in Calif.

Word has been received here that Ruth Ann Rowe, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Rowe, La Harbor, Calif., died early today. The family formerly lived here.

Survivors include the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Rowe of Hope, and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Verden of Prescott.

The body will be returned to Hope for burial. Herndon-Cornelius will announce arrangements.

Texarkana Firm Submits Low Bid

FAYETTEVILLE (UP)—The Texarkana Construction Co., of Texarkana, submitted the apparent low bid of $389,000 yesterday for erection of a men's dining hall at the University of Arkansas.

McMath Directs Opposition to Governor's Plan

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Former Gov. Sid McMath has revealed that he directed locally a "pressure campaign" for liberals of state and national reputation who opposed Gov. Orval Faubus in the Little Rock integration crisis.

McMath and Faubus have drawn apart recently on ideological differences after being close friends for years.

The former governor said yesterday that he took over his role of opposition on the school integration issue at the request of national Democratic Party leaders and even some high-ranking persons in the Eisenhower administration.

McMath made it clear that his role was not in any way closely related to the activities of Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.), who said yesterday that he helped bring about a scheduled meeting of Eisenhower and Faubus at Newport, R. I. The meeting will take place tomorrow.

"I don't agree with the stand taken by Gov. Faubus," McMath said, "but I do think that it must be emphasized that these who know him well believe that the firmest criticism should be that it was an action out of character."

"Orval Faubus was a moderate liberal and he did grand work for the industrial progress of the state. He stood with all of us on the moderate approach to race relations as being in the best traditions of Arkansas."

McMath continued: "What led him to take this step, I can't say. But I feel sure he has seen the light for the welfare of this state in the long run. He seems to be ready to accede to the basic American tenet that the laws must be upheld and enforced to protect the integrity of the courts. We are overriding a law-abiding people in this state and we cherish our country's heritage of freedom and opportunity for all people under the law."

When the school controversy developed, McMath said, his telephone was busy with calls from liberals and moderates throughout the nation urging him to rally forces that might be in danger of taking up Faubus' side.

"I think," McMath said, "we were able to hold back Faubus supporters and race extremists from capturing my great number of middle-of-the-roaders who were of balance by reason of unexpected developments that came so swiftly."

He said "We stressed that history was against the Faubus position, that at most he was a mistaken man and that the one issue for all Arkansians to consider was the welfare of our state and the progress-march of our country."

Sales Award Presented to M. S. Bates

M. S. Bates, of Hope, was top sales representative for Pioneer Western Life Insurance Company in August, it was announced today by Frank Whitebeck, president.

A beautiful silver "man of the month" trophy is to be awarded to Mr. Bates for his outstanding sales leadership this past month.

Mr. Bates is a member of the Leaders Round Table of Arkansas, an association of the leading producers of life insurance in this state. Since 1955 he has been among the top producers each month at Pioneer Western Life. He resides at 1501 S. Elm in Hope.

Both Sides Hope Talks Will Bring a Solution to Integration Problem

Ike Planning Big on Finding Some Formula

By ARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—President Eisenhower is profoundly hopeful that out of his meeting tomorrow with Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus may come a pattern for solution of school integration troubles.

That doesn't mean the President intends to set forth any new or startling formula when he and Faubus confer at Eisenhower's vacation headquarters here at the U. S. naval base.

For that matter, Eisenhower is understood to be planning to do a great deal of listening to the governor, whose suggestion it was that they "counsel together" in an effort to resolve a momentous federal-state impasse over the halting of court-ordered school integration in Little Rock, Ark.

But the President's swift acceptance of the proposal that he and Faubus meet "face-to-face" served to underscore how eager Eisenhower is to work out a solution and perhaps open the way for easing of Southern resistance to integration.

The President attaches so much importance to tomorrow's session that he has instructed two top aides—Ally Gen. Brown and chief White House assistant Sherman Adams—to fly from Washington for the meeting.

Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.), who has been acting as an intermediary between the White House and Faubus, will sit in at tomorrow's conference. He said in Little Rock it was he who originated the idea of an Eisenhower-Faubus meeting. Hays is an old friend of the President.

Faubus has said he called out National Guardsmen in Little Rock to preserve peace, and order, and he asserted—in a telegram to Eisenhower—Wednesday that "it is entirely my desire" to comply with the court, "consistent with my responsibilities." Injunction proceedings have been initiated in U.S. District Court.

Millionaire C. J. Ryan Is a Suicide

NEW YORK (UP)—Clendenin J. Ryan, Jr., 32, millionaire grandson of the late financier Thomas Fortune Ryan and an enthusiastic dabbler in politics, shot himself to death early today in the same town house where his father committed suicide in 1935.

Ryan's wife, the former Jane Harder, was in the apartment at the time. She thought the shot was a backfire until informed differently by Ryan's attorney who had been waiting to go to Washington with Ryan.

The attorney, Michael Graney, did not say what their business in Washington was. A family friend said Ryan had been "heeled up" in the apartment for over a year, brooding over a civil action against him.

Graney said he knocked at the door at 7:30 and was admitted by Ryan. "Now we can minute," Ryan told Graney. Ryan then disappeared into a bathroom and a shot was fired.

Police said Ryan left two sealed envelopes, one addressed to his wife and the other to a Mrs. Caroline Ryan Paulke believed to be his sister. A third note, unsigned, was impounded by police who refused to divulge its contents immediately.

Shortly after World War II, Ryan claimed to have set up his own anti-Communist espionage system in the Iron Curtain area. He said one of his agents was related with a supposed Soviet Secret Police Chief Lavrenti Beria to arrange for Beria to seek asylum in America, but it was later learned that Beria already had been liquidated at the time of the alleged negotiations.

Once a society playboy who hit tabloid front pages with his quick, flannel marriage to a countess, Ryan turned to politics as an aide to Mayor Fiorello La Guardia in 1933.

Ryan's frustrating political career hit its high in 1950 when he sought an enthusiastic campaign for mayor of New York City. His unsuccessful campaign against William O'Dwyer was based on charges of corruption in city hall.

Beaumont Needs a Real Hero

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—This Gulf Coast only of more than 100,000 has a problem: no heroes.

The Beaumont Chamber of commerce needs a hero of World War I or the Korean conflict. It wants a name the local U.S. Army Reserve "armory" could honor.

Stories were published in the local paper. Letters were sent to civic and service clubs.

But still no hero.

Confidential to Wind Up Defense

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Baldish defense attorney Arthur J. Crowley today was expected to wind up his efforts to persuade a jury that Confidential Magazine performed "a public service" and not a crime in exposing "undesirables."

Crowley said he would finish his three day of final argument late today. The prosecution was expected to country with a brief closing statement and then the case will go to the jury, probably no before Monday because of a week end recess.

The defense attorney Thursday launched a scolding attack against the prosecution and the movie industry. He charged that movie-land was protecting homosexuals.

He also branded producer "Paul Gregory as a 'perjurer'."

Crowley attempted to hammer home to the six men and six women jurors that Confidential was being persecuted instead of prosecuted by the Chief prosecutor William Ritz. Crowley made it clear that he felt there was no basis for the state's charges of criminal libel and obscenity against the magazine.

Does Mr. Ritz think it is a public service to sacrifice freedom of the press on the altar of expediency to cover up people in this town who walk around like they wear the purple of ancient Rome? Crowley turned to the prosecutor and asked, "There is only one industry where homosexuality is not only condoned but protected."

He is Rep. Brooks Hays.

Hays emerged as the mysterious emissary who helped bring Gov. Orval E. Faubus to the conference tomorrow with President Eisenhower.

Only two days ago, Faubus and the U. S. government appeared to be caught in a hopeless and dangerous deadlock. Faubus had ordered National Guardsmen to keep Negroes from enrolling in a Little Rock high school. A federal judge had ordered the school to be integrated.

Neither side seemed prepared to budge an inch.

Suddenly, the news came that Faubus had asked for a meeting with the President at Newport, R. I.—a meeting that carries the prayerful hopes of people in Little Rock to end the ugly situation.

Hays said the meeting was his idea.

Further, he says, "I have been transmitting information on the situation to the White House almost from the beginning. I felt it was my duty to keep the White House informed."

He was in a strategic position for the role of go-between. He is a close friend of Eisenhower's key assistant, Sherman Adams. He stood by Eisenhower's foreign aid program and foreign policy when other Democratic congressmen were opposing it.

He can and does stand as a kind of interpreter of the views of the south on the north on integration, pleading for understanding.

For these and other reasons, he is highly personal grata at the White House.

Faubus Leaves for Conference With President

By RELMAN MORIN
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus took off today for a history-making conference with President Eisenhower on the aggravated federal-state integration problem at Little Rock.

"I feel the same—hopeful," Faubus said. "I'm just going to see the president and I can't discuss the conference in advance, but I'm optimistic."

The governor, accompanied by Arnold Sikes, his executive assistant, and Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.) left in a small two-engine Aero-Commander belonging to the Brown Aero Corp. of Dallas, Texas.

This is the same type plane the President uses sometimes in flying from Washington to his farm in Gettysburg.

W. C. White Jr., vice president and general manager of the Brown Corp., was the pilot, and Ed Moore, pilot for the corporation, was in the copilot's seat.

White said he did not know how long the flight would take, because of uncertain weather, nor where the plane might land.

Faubus also said he did not know where he would spend the night. He said no arrangements had been made.

Faubus said he might have to land somewhere "in the Newport area" and go to the President's vacation headquarters by plane of automobile tomorrow morning.

He smilingly turned aside all questions about the moves he will make in conference with the President.

Asked whether he was annoyed by the "throw in the sponge" comment by a television commentator yesterday, Faubus said: "No, I wasn't annoyed—particularly after the President and his aide made the statements denying it."

Did he consider that the expression might have weakened the possibility of a solution of the problem?

"I don't think so," Faubus said, "particularly after they said what they did up there."

He was asked whether tomorrow's meeting might be the first of a series—or whether there might be other conferences on other government levels in the attempt to solve the integration controversy in Little Rock.

"I couldn't say," Faubus replied. "It's a possibility there might be others."

Both the governor and Rep. Hays, intermediary between Faubus and the White House, declined to say who brought into the role of go-between.

"I'd have to look at my diary," Hays said. He governor simply said he was not in a position to answer.

Hays told reporters he hoped to have a preliminary private meeting, perhaps in Providence, with Sherman Adams, to presidential assistant, tonight.

Faubus, however, said he did not expect to meet anyone from the White House prior to the conference with Eisenhower.

He said he did not expect to stop in Washington on the way. He said such reports today, but Faubus said "If we do stop in Washington it would only be for Continued on Page Four" gave a very inspiring and challenging devotional, using as his theme "And let us run with patience the race that is set before us" — Hebrews 12:1.

Parents of transferred students and beginners were welcomed into the school and PTA by the president.

The teachers were introduced by Mrs. T. V. Messer, principal, including two new ones, Mrs. W. H. Shideler and Mrs. Earl Downs. Mrs. Messer also outlined some of the plans for this school year.

Due to the unprecedented attendance at this first night meeting the group enthusiastically voted to continue meeting at night. There was an unusual number of fathers present, which was very gratifying.

Mrs. King introduced the Superintendent of Schools, Mr. James H. Jones, who explained why there are so many transfers in the elementary schools this year. He stated that there has not as yet been a formula worked out whereby the town can be zoned to equalize the teacher load and it has to be done by pupil assignment. He further stated that it is not fair to the child or to the teacher to load certain grades more heavily than others simply to serve the convenience of the parents.

Working Ma Hears Ugly Rumors About Daughter

Dear Dorothy Dix: When my husband died seven years ago, I was left with a 13-year-old daughter. It was necessary for me to go to work, and we managed very well until a few months ago. Then my hours became irregular and I often worked at night. My daughter would sleep in the house alone, or stay with a girl friend.

Now I learn that on many of these visits to the girl friend, both girls actually spent the night with two young men. Both these girls have excellent reputations and I am simply appalled at their actions. What should I do? Faced her with the fact that I am aware of what she's doing, tell the other girl's mother, or leave everyone in blissful ignorance?

AGNES R.
Dear Agnes: By all means bring the matter out in the open, and air it for anyone concerned — your daughter, the other girl, the mother.

Don't overlook the fact that your information might be wrong, however. Make sure of your facts. The best way to do this is to have an open, frank talk with your daughter. Tell her you've heard rumors, ask if they're true and, if they are, talk to the other girl. There may be some exaggeration here. Responsible, intelligent girls of 20 guard their reputations more closely.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My parents threaten to disown me if I marry before I'm 24. That is four years away and I'm desperately in love with a charming man. What do you think of my marrying him despite my parents' opposition?

LEE
Dear Lee: Your parents certainly have a feudal view of dating and marriage. If they can't be more realistic, they must expect opposition. Just be sure your romance is real and not merely rebellion.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm 17, and quite sure I'm in love with a man ten years my senior. We've known each other about a month. He dates other girls, and claims he's determined to remain a bachelor. However he's said a lot to me that a bachelor would never say to a single girl. My friends all tell me to forget him, but I can't. What else can I do?

H. K.
Dear H. K.: You can let the man charm you into trouble or a broken heart. Would that suit you better than giving up an illusion and settling for real fun with kids your own age? You're really not in love you just dream romantically. Come down to earth.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Although I am 15 years older than my husband, I like lots of social life while he cares for nothing but TV. I was an entertainer in my younger days, and still do shows for the blind, the Y.W.C.A. and our church. My husband doesn't object to my activities but I do wish he'd join in some of them. I need activity. Do you think it would be better for us to separate?

MONA
Dear Mona: As an entertainer of the old vaudeville days, you have probably sung the ditty, "A Good Man is Hard to Find." Well, it's as true today as it was 30 years ago. If you have a good husband — and aside from his attachment to TV he seems to be — hang on to him for dear life.

Since he doesn't object to your activities, what's your beef? Keep on asking him to attend socials with you, talk about them when you come home, and he may weaken yet. Otherwise, just keep the TV in repair.

Coffee Prices Cut by Maxwell House

HOBOKEN, N.J. (UP) — The Maxwell House division of General Foods Corp. today announced immediate wholesale price cuts of 2 and 3 cents a pound on its regular grocery-pack ground coffees.

Its Maxwell House and Sanka brands have been reduced 3 cents a pound, and its Yuban and Bliss coffee 2 cents.

Albert Ehlers immediately followed the Maxwell House move and cut its vacuum tin coffee 3 cents to 92 cents a pound, effective immediately.

Today's reduction follow the recent decline in the green coffee market. Since the end of July Colombian mild coffees have dropped from 3 1/2 to 4 cents a pound, and the Brazilian grades about 2 1/2 cents.

The wholesale price cuts were immediately reflected at the retail level as Grand Union Co. announced it now is selling Maxwell House coffee at $1.02 a pound, down 3 cents.

The supermarket chain all lowered the price of its private label bagged coffees 2 cents a pound today in the New York metropolitan area. Grand Union brands now range from 77 to 87 cents a pound.

Segregation Issue in Alaska Too

NORTH POLE, Alaska (UP) — A small residence into which a Negro family moved recently was burned here Saturday night and charges were made at a City Council meeting that the fire was set deliberately because of the family's race.

Mayor Con Miller told the Council the fire, which practically destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Green, apparently was a case of arson. The Greens are the first Negroes ever to live in this small community.

CHEVROLET PICKUP CLIMBS
PIKES PEAK THE HARD WAY
...OFF THE ROAD!

An off-the-road run up Pikes Peak was called impossible by people who know the mountain well. But a production Chevrolet pickup actually did it ... to prove its pulling power and ruggedness!

Steep grade near timberline — a rugged test of power. The power and torque of Chevrolet's famous Thriftmaster 6 proved more than a match for the most difficult grades.

Miles of loose boulders and thinning air offer extreme challenge. Yet the big Chevy engine never faltered; it performed flawlessly mile after mile, all the way up the mountain!

Final effort achieves summit! Pickup conquers Pikes Peak ... shows why Chevrolet trucks are famous for staying and saving on tough jobs! Talk trucks with your Chevrolet dealer.

Sandy Favored Over German

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UP) — Sandy, the middleweight with the musical name, is favored to night against stubby German Frank Suzina.

Although Sandy is the 8-5 favorite, the 25-year-old German promises to give him a tough battle in the televised fight at War Memorial Auditorium.

New Yorker Sandy, 26, badly needs the win to offset losses this year to Joey Giardello and Spider Webb. Sandy's record is 10-1-1.

CYF Observes Anniversary

The CYF of BeBe Memorial C. M. E. Church held its Anniversary Observance Sunday afternoon Sept. 8.

The service was well attended, and the program was very impressive.

W. V. Rutherford, Principal of Yerger High School, was guest speaker. Among those appearing on the Patron's List were Messadames J. L. Swift, Inez Cannon, Daisy Muldrew, Messadames J. D. Roach and Frank Meeks.

After the program, the CYF Prayer Band was entertained in the home of Mrs. Mattie Sanders, supervisor of the organization. There were 14 members present.

Football

The Yerger Tigers will open the season Saturday night, Sept. 14, at 8 o'clock when they meet Mc-

Rae High School, of Prescott at Hammons Stadium in what promises to be a thrilling game.

Fans, let begin the season with the Tigers. Admission, advance, adults $1.00; students 50c; at gate, adults 75c and students 75c.

Tickets will be on sale at Hicks Funeral Home, Blue Room, Club TV and Green Leaf Cafe.

Coming and Going

Mrs. Ruby Walker, the niece of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Walker, and Mr. Walker's sister, Mrs. Conola Stanley have returned to their home in Houston, Texas after having spent a few days with the Walkers.

Obituary

Funeral service for W. Henry Stuart who died Sept. 8, at his home in Ozan will be held Sunday, Sept. 15, at 2 p. m. at St. Luke's C.M.E. Church in Ozan. Hicks Funeral Home in charge.

Harrison Mendenhall died at his home near Rosston, Thursday, Sept. 12. Funeral arrangements are incomplete and will be announced by Hicks Funeral Home.

Hope-Stamps Meet in Opening Game

Bobcats Hold Big Weight Advantage

Stamps Yellowjackets come to Hope again tonight at 8 o'clock for the opening game of the season with the burly Bobcats in an annual contest.

These two teams have kicked the lid off the football season for years and although the Yellowjackets have yet to defeat the Bobcats in the current series the contest has always proved interesting.

In fact one year the Bobcats barely managed to tie the Jackets.

For Stamps, a outfit playing a Double A school, is a chance to give the boys competition probably rougher than any they'll face in their own division all year.

For Hope, it is a chance for the team to gain experience against an outfit coming here to win. Stamps is in the ideal spot. It would certainly be no disgrace to get beat by the much larger Hope crew and a victory would suddenly shove the Yellowjackets into the spotlight.

So far it hasn't worked that way but it could.

And this year the Bobcats are much heavier than the visitors.

The Hope team will average 170 pounds to Stamps' 150; The Bobcat line weighs in at 181 while the Stamps line is listed at 147; The Stamps backfield registers 155 to 172 for Hope.

The kickoff is set for 8 o'clock. Bands of both schools will perform during the halftime period. A large crowd is expected.

Appearing on TV With Ray Irks Basilio

Syracuse, N. Y. (UP) — Carmen Basilio was angry enough on two counts today.

First, he learned to his dismay that the middleweight champion who had signed to appear with him on Steve Allen's TV show at New York Sunday night; whereas Carmen thought he had been slated for a solo.

Second, he finally boiled over because of Robinson's repeated boasts about "helping Basilio to a lot of money."

Torrid Carmen tried three times to (1) have Robinson evicted from the TV show or (2) let Robinson appear in New York but to do his own part of the show at a syndicate station. Basilio's efforts failed and he will be in New York Sunday night.

Concerning Sugar Ray's professed charitable attitude, Carmen declared, "Robinson would be a bust now without a drawing card like me. It's a big-money fight because the public thinks I can lick him—not just because Robinson's fighting. And the public is right."

Robinson has been quoted repeatedly as boasting that he obtained a guarantee of $11,000 from the theatre-TV for Basilio because of the Robinson-IBC dispute that resulted in Robinson getting a guarantee of $255,000 from the same source.

Attendance Up in Nat'l League

CINCINNATI (UP) — National League attendance is running almost 100,000 fans ahead of last year and league spokesman Dabe Grote said today an all-time league record is expected of a "normal" year.

A total of 8,025,741 fans have seen NL games this year through Sept. 11 and that figure represents an increase of 99,823 over the 7,925,918 total on the same date a year ago.

The league expects to see the old 1956 record attendance of 8,649,567 fall before the season ends Sept. 29.

HERE IS MY HAND

...grasp it, Sir! It speaks the most eloquent language I know. It represents my honor, my character, myself. I lift my hand to God and I extend it to my fellowman. Outside my uplifted hand and my extended hand life has no meaning. My hands have wrought mighty works...they have flung great bridges over wide waters and raised magnificent Temples into the blue yonder. My hands can express all my emotions. I may wring them in remorse, or clasp them in joyous approval. I may clench them in whitened anger, or open them wide in glad welcome. I may fold them behind me in indecision, or I may extend them in jubilant approval. I may raise them in high humility and prayer, or I may use them to offer the word of God to a passer-by. My hands! May God use them to further the cause of His church in the world...here is my hand.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCHGOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Woman Held in Fatal Shooting

POMONA, Calif., (AP) — Police reported today that a little girl dressed in a sun suit told them she killed her uncle with a rifle to save her aunt from injury in a family fight.

But officers said the aunt, 20-year-old Mrs. Polly Ayala, insisted it was she who fired the shot that killed her husband, Everett, 28, at their Pomona home last night.

Mrs. Ayala was booked on suspicion of murder.

Capt. Glen Pleasant and E. F. Holladay said Mrs. Ayala's 8-year-old niece told them her aunt and uncle had a violent quarrel after the aunt came home last night.

The girl, whose name was not released for publication, said her aunt and uncle tore each other's clothing and fought from the kitchen to the bedroom end back.

The officers quoted the child as saying her aunt told her "to get the gun in the closet and shoot him." She said she did just that, officers reported.

Investigators said the aunt did not elaborate on her story.

The girl had been living with the Ayalas several months. Police said she was taken to her father's home last night and placed in protective custody there.

trainees under their command.

Six have been tried, and four convicted.

Riley was accused of being drunk on duty, calling an unauthorized trainee formation at 11 p.m., trying to coerce trainees to buy company stationery, and requiring a recruit who did not buy stationery to shovel a pile of dirt from his place to another.
